

The State of America's Language and Diversity

Linguistic diversity in the United States is at a record high—and it only stands to grow from here.

*Percentage of people in America who speak a second language at home – triple what it was in 1980.
(Source: U.S. Census Bureau)

350+ languages

Number of languages spoken in the U.S., making it the most linguistically diverse country on earth.

(Source: U.S. Census Bureau)

3X

Amount by which the number of non-English speakers has grown since 1980.

(Source: U.S. Census Bureau)

Immigration

40 million

People living in the U.S. who were born in another country, accounting for one-fifth of the world's migrants.

(Source: Pew Research)

16%

Percentage of the U.S. adult population who are immigrants.

(Source: KFF/LA Times)

6.8 million

Number of migrants and refugees who came to the U.S. between 2021-2023.

(Source: Department of Homeland Security)

Children

25%

Percentage of U.S. children who have an immigrant parent.

(Source: The Urban Institute)

Looking Forward

Percentage of U.S. population growth that will be attributed to immigrants and their descendants through 2065.

(Source: Pew Research)

10%

Percentage of K-12 students who are English Language Learners. (Source: National Center for Educational Studies)

No. 2

Ranking the U.S. is expected to hold by 2060 among the globe's largest Spanish-speaking countries, trailing only Mexico. (Source: Pew Research)

